

PRUNED MODELS

All models found in the “Pruned Models” folders are no longer in active production and have been pruned. The information contained in these technical manuals is no longer being maintained and may not be accurate. After a period of time from the date of being pruned, certain components may no longer be available for service.

Please consult a Nilfisk-Advance Technical Service representative to assist you.